

Events

When people get away from their normal routine, they are often better able to hear from the Lord. That is one of the reasons that conferences can be an effective tool to equip and motivate believers toward deeper levels of prayer.

The CPLN puts on regional conferences across the United States. These conferences are designed in a way that both prayer leaders and pastors—and the average believer in the pew—can be challenged and inspired in their own prayer lives, and in making prayer more foundational in their churches.

Below is a listing of our upcoming events. We are also looking for host churches for events in the fall of 2018 and beyond. If you are interested in information on hosting such an event, click here.

Midwest Prayer Conference, Oct 5-6, 2018

Would Your Church Like to Host a Prayer Event?

Holding a Prayer Event without a Lot of Funds